Artificial Intelligence and Retrieval-Augmented Generation

Vector embeddings transform unstructured textual documents into numerical vectors. This allows search engines and AI agents to find semantically relevant content.